

Orange Shirt Day

Based on Phyllis (Jack) Webstad's story

By Heather Androsoff

Digital social stories for school and home that support children's social-emotional learning and development.

TeachersPayTeachers.com/Store/Social-Stories-4-Kids

 @SocialStories4Kids

 @socialstories4kids

 @HeatherAndrosoff

 @heatherandrosoff

 HeathersBookCo@gmail.com

I would like to acknowledge and thank my colleague and friend, Marjean Brown (Nisga'a), who I consulted throughout the creation of this social story and who continues to support and encourage me on my learning journey.

PCS and Boardmaker are trademarks of Tobii Dynavox LLC. All rights reserved. Used with permission.

I was six years old.

6

I lived with my grandmother on the Dog Creek Reserve with the other Secwpeḿc
First Nations families.

My grandmother took me shopping for my birthday to buy me some new school clothes.

I picked out an orange shirt with a special laced collar.

I knew I was going to look great on my first day of school!

When I got to school, the teachers made me take off
all my clothes.

They took my shiny orange shirt and I never saw it again.

They washed me
and washed me, even though I was already clean.

They cut my hair. I missed my long hair.

We had to wear a uniform so we all looked the same.

I had to stay at school,
even at night.

I slept in a room with lots of other children.

I wasn't allowed to speak my own language. I had to speak English or I would get in trouble.

We had to do chores every day for many hours.

There was no playtime.

Sometimes if I made a mistake my teacher would hit me or embarrass me in front of the class.

We didn't get much to eat.
I missed my favourite foods.

Many of my friends got sick because they were too
hungry, too tired,
or too sad.

Some of my friends
died at school.

My days at school were lonely
and difficult.

I missed my friends and family.

When I was done school, I went back home but I couldn't remember how to speak my native language.

I lost my identity.

As an adult,
I sometimes think about my days at school.

I feel sad and hurt when I think back on my time at school.

I don't want any other children
to feel like I did at school.

Every child should feel safe, special,
and liked for who they are.

We wear orange on Orange Shirt Day
to remember the children and families
that were hurt by residential schools.

We wear orange to remind us of the things that make us each special.

At school, every child matters!

Check out these digital stories by Social Stories 4 Kids:

When I Play Sports

By Heather Androsoff

I Can Be An Ally At School

By Heather Androsoff

Washing My Hands At School

By Heather Androsoff

My Family Is Moving

By Heather Androsoff

Working Towards Reconciliation

By Heather Androsoff

Arriving On Time For School

By Heather Androsoff

Learning To Be Independent At School

By Heather Androsoff

I Love My Dad!

By Heather Androsoff

Having a Conversation

By Heather Androsoff

Learning About Personal Space

By Heather Androsoff

I Love My Mom!

By Heather Androsoff

I Can Choose Who I Let Influence Me

By Heather Androsoff

Exploration Time At School

By Heather Androsoff

Going On A Playdate

By Heather Androsoff

Spending Time With Nature

By Heather Androsoff

I'm Going To A Birthday Party!

By Heather Androsoff

When I Want To Take A Break

By Heather Androsoff

Things That I Can Control

By Heather Androsoff

Handling Change

By Heather Androsoff

What Families Do

By Heather Androsoff

Having a Playdate

By Heather Androsoff

Going On A Field Trip

By Heather Androsoff

Having a Growth Mindset

By Heather Androsoff

My Glasses

By Heather Androsoff

TeachersPayTeachers.com/Store/Social-Stories-4-Kids

SocialStories4Kids.com

